

February 27, 2024 - Compassionate Release Request

The defendant has filed a pro se Motion for Compassionate Release Pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 3582(c)(1)(A).

The prosecutor currently assigned to this case is Assistant United States Attorney ("AUSA") Victoria Boyle, who can be reached at (202) 252-2425. For continued information about the Pan Am Flight #73 prosecution, please refer to the website <https://www.justice.gov/usao-dc> (Tab to "Divisions", select "Victim Witness Assistance Unit", scroll to the bottom of the page with the section titled "Case Information", then select "Pan AM Flight 73").

As you may recall, this case is assigned to Judge Emmet G. Sullivan. However, the Court has not scheduled a hearing on the defendant's Motion for Compassionate Release at this time. Please contact the Assistant United States Attorney for more detailed information. Because court hearing dates are scheduled on short notice or changed frequently, you should not rely only on the information in this letter about when hearings will occur. Please call 202-252-7566 or the phone number of the prosecutor listed above to check on a hearing date before you come to court. You are NOT required to attend hearings in this case unless you receive a subpoena. If you choose to attend the hearing, please introduce yourself to the AUSA in the courtroom. This will give the AUSA an opportunity to discuss the case with you, if necessary, and to ensure that you are permitted to observe the court proceedings. If you have any questions about whether the hearing will occur as scheduled or whether to attend, please contact the United States Attorney's Office at the phone number listed above.
